PROFILE

I build and maintain responsive WordPress themes, ensure sites are optimized, and complete site migrations and custom web modifications. When I'm not coding I can be found camping all over Southern California with my family, training and working with my dog, working on my Subaru STI, or playing video games like Fallout, Civilization, and Grand Theft Auto. I look forward to getting to know you as well.

FREELANCE WEB DEVELOPER
Freelance // San Diego // 2013 – Present

Started out as a freelance web developer and eventually got my first professional job at Ceatus. As in the beginning, I create user friendly, mobile first sites that easy for the client to maintain on their own once the site is built.

- Currently working on a custom WordPress site for a hair solon.
  - A lot of advanced custom fields have been used to make further customization easier for novice users.
- amatohealth.com: Health insurance built for a friend's wife.
  - Site is fully custom with a custom design.
  - Build using Bootstrap
- laurennygard.com: Rebuilt the homepage and blog
  - Added a large slider to the header of the homepage and some feature buttons
  - Moved the blog to a standalone page
- shaunhigleyartistry.com: This is one of the first sites I created
  - The site uses pure Bootstrap
  - Built with WordPress
  - Custom image gallery
